Dear Donald P. Johnson:

I am pleased to inform you that effective August 27, 2007, KeySpan is now part of National Grid. This exciting new partnership combines two industry leaders with a renewed dedication to providing the best possible service to its customers. While the name may be new to some, our commitment to customer satisfaction, service reliability, safety, energy efficiency, and community involvement will be very familiar.

The combination of National Grid and KeySpan would not make sense unless it benefits everyone involved, particularly our customers. Here are just a few of the advantages resulting from this partnership:

- Permanent cost reductions from operational improvements
- A commitment to training and developing our expanded workforce, with a greater ability to respond to storms and other emergencies
- Plans to increase investments in gas and electric infrastructure to improve service reliability
- Continued energy efficiency programs – saving customers money and benefiting the environment

Think globally, act locally. It's not just an environmental term; it applies to how National Grid conducts day to day business. We are committed to safeguarding our global environment for future generations. Our proven track record of combating climate change will bring significant environmental benefits right here to the Northeast. We've already cut greenhouse gas emissions in the U.S. by 8%, and we're just getting started. National Grid will also apply its knowledge and international expertise in Manufactured Gas Plant (MGP) remediation.

The histories and experience of National Grid and KeySpan have us well positioned to meet the challenges of tomorrow. You will hear more as we build the new National Grid into the foremost international electricity and gas company. But regardless of the changes ahead, we will never neglect our first priority – to provide safe, reliable, and efficient service to our customers.

Thank you for your support and we look forward to working with you in the future.

Sincerely,

Michael Bruno
Senior Coordinator
