Walter:

Looking at the CPC member sheet, I noticed that several members' terms have expired on June 30, 2003. Christine tells me that the Board of Selectmen have not made reappointments or new appointments to date. Perhaps, it is time to see that all members are legally appointed, especially as the committee enters a crucial, and possibly controversial phase. Members whose terms have expired are technically not members, and can technically not vote on any committee action.
