Acton Planning:

Thank you very much for working to establish permanent open space. Living next to the School Street fields for over twenty years, I know it's a special place. Now, there is a rather eye-catching statement being planned via a Deutsche Telecom cell tower.

I have made some augmented photographs taken of the balloon test. An actual tower photograph was then inserted to match the height of the balloon.

The views are from Route 2, School Street, and my home.
