Subj: VCC Recommendation for Anping Liu

Anping Liu originally submitted an application to volunteer on the Capital Planning Improvement Committee. At that time there were more applicants than there were openings and he was not one of the applicants selected. He has subsequently asked to be considered for the Planning Board.

This is the original recommendation that we presented for him:

The Acton Volunteer Coordinating Committee met July 25, 2016 and interviewed Anping Liu for a position on Acton Capital Improvement Planning Committee. He is an electrical engineer and has lived in Acton for 5 years..

He has children in the Acton school system. He has a lot of interest in finance. He is the treasurer for the Home Owners Association in the condo complex where he resides. He is very interested in financial research and investments.

Attends Town Meeting and this is his first time applying to serve on a volunteer committee. This is for a one of two members at large appointed by the selectmen.

We voted to give his name for further consideration as a member of the Acton Capital Improvement Committee. We were very impressed by his enthusiasm and desire to give his time and wants to be a volunteer in Acton.

Jean Lane,VCC

Nothing has changed especially in terms of his enthusiasm and desire to be a volunteer and it would be redundant for us to interview him again. Therefore, the VCC recommends moving him forward for further consideration for a position on the Planning Board.
