Community Preservation Committee Required Attachment to Project Application Form

Narrative: As described in the Chairman, Acton Board of Selectmen, letter dated 26 July 2004 to the Chairman of the Community Preservation Committee, and its seven enclosures, all of which are attached hereto, the project involves obtaining a bronze plaque commemorating the long and valuable service of the longest serving Acton Selectman, Colonel Francis Faulkner, a replacement for a plaque placed in the first Acton High School building by this descendants in 1925. The original plaque was removed from that building in the early 1970s when it was converted to the Towne Elementary School and lost. This project involves contracting with an appropriate firm to produce a bronze plaque with a suitable inscription as suggested in the enclosures to the letters mentioned above, obtaining the plaque, carrying it into what is now known as Room 204 in the Acton Town Hall, suitably mounting the plaque, that is affixing it to a wall in the room in a position chosen by the Acton Town Manager, and conducting an appropriate ceremonial unveiling of the plaque. The cost of the plaque with the suggested inscription, as is noted in the attached materials, has been estimated by a firm in the memorial plaque business to be $861. It is estimated by the proponent that the remaining expenses will bring the cost to $1,000. As to timing it is estimated that it will take a month to obtain the plaque after the funds for its procurement become available and another month thereafter to mount and dedicate the plaque.

Site Control: Room 204 of the Acton Town Hall is under the control of the Town Manager and the proponent Acton Board of Selectmen.

Project Scope: See the narrative above and the attached materials..

Cost Estimate: See the narrative above and the attached materials.

Feasibility: There are no known other functions or steps that will be required for completion of the project, nor any environmental assessments, zoning or other permits or approvals, agreements on terms of any required conservation, affordability, or historic preservation restrictions, subordination agreements, or any other known or potential barriers or impediments to project implementation.

Maps: The project will take place in Room 204 of the Acton Town Hall, a space in which the Community Conservation Committee has been known to hold meetings, so with all due respect, maps do not seem necessary.

Photographs: The project will take place in Room 204 of the Acton Town Hall, a space in which the Community Conservation Committee has been known to hold meetings, so with all due respect, photographs do not seem necessary.

Re: CPA Funding Application For Francis Faulkner Historical Plaque Replacement

Dear Chairman Berry:

At its July 12, 2004 meeting the Acton Board of Selectmen voted to submit an application for 2005 CPA funding in the amount of $1,000.00 to cover the cost of the fabrication and mounting of a new 30" x 12" bronze plaque honoring, and educating the citizenry about, Acton's longest serving Selectman, Colonel Francis Faulkner.

As noted in the attached supporting papers, Colonel Faulkner faithfully and well served Acton as a Selectman and Town Clerk from 1760 until 1796, the years when Acton was part of Massachusetts Colony under the direction of a Royal Governor, during the Revolutionary War, through the period of the Articles of Confederation, and finally into the early years of the United States of America. Francis Faulkner further served Acton and Massachusetts and our country in general in various other capacities as set forth in the enclosures.

A prior memorial plaque was donated to the Town concerning Colonel Faulkner by his granddaughter, Lady Faulkner Campbell in 1926 along with the furnishings of the Northwest Room of what was then the new Acton High School building. Unfortunately only a few years later, in or about 1970, all memorials were stripped from that building when it was converted into an elementary school and apparently lost or discarded. This has deprived the Town of something physical to remind us of the extraordinary service provided by this outstanding individual. By obtaining and properly mounting a new Francis Faulkner plaque in the Town Hall Selectmen's Hearing Room, Francis Faulkner's part in the Town history can be duly remembered now and in the future.

The Board of Selectmen recommend that the Community Preservation Committee recommend this modest expenditure to the 2005 Annual Town Meeting.

Sincerely,

Re: Community Preservation Fund Application to Replace Lost Francis Faulkner Plaque and a Further Proposal to Change Designation of the Selectmen's Hearing Room from "Room 204" to the "Francis Faulkner Room"

I have previously advised the Board that I personally wish to submit a request to the Community Preservation Committee to fund a modest replacement memorial for the Town's longest serving Selectman, Colonel Francis Faulkner. Alternatively, I understand that there may be some interest in having this funding request made by the Board itself, thus I am submitting this letter to you to determine whether I should prepare the necessary application in my own name personally, or whether it should be prepared on behalf of the Board of Selectmen.

As you are all aware I have become very interested in the history of our Board, the body which ever since 1735 has figured so prominently in the governance of Acton. It is fascinating to realize that we are, respectively, only the 159th (FDH), 168th (PKA), 169th (WHS), 171st (WMF) and 172nd (RAJ) persons to serve as Acton Selectmen in a continuum extending back two hundred and sixty nine years. The citizens of the Town, and particularly we as persons who carry forward the Town's management, should in my opinion be continually reminded of those on whose shoulders we stand in carrying forward our open town meeting form of government.

The list of our forebearers who have been Selectmen includes many persons who have distinguished themselves in various ways while working diligently for the Town. But I think that none stand out as more worthy of commemoration than Francis Faulkner who served, not only as a Selectman, but also as Town Clerk, from 1760 until 1796, a period of thirty-six years. As the Board knows, Francis Faulkner was the Board's longest serving member and otherwise distinguished himself in a number of ways as mentioned in the enclosures to this letter. However, there is at present no artifact to reflect that distinguished service during a critical period for this nation, other than a few words on Colonel Faulkner's tombstone in Woodlawn Cemetery.

A memorial tablet was previously placed in his honor in the original, 1925, Acton High School building, paid for by his granddaughter. That bronze tablet, and other memorials are described in the enclosed pages from Phalen's History of the Town of Acton (1954). Note where, at 329, it is stated "Especial interest centers around the memorial tablets placed in the High School building. From them much can be learned of Acton's past history and of the activities of its prominent men and women." Unfortunately all those memorials were stripped from that building (the Towne School) when the edifice was converted to an elementary school in the 1970s and can not now be located.

It is my desire to obtain a new bronze plaque memorializing Francis Faulkner and have it permanently mounted at a more appropriate location, to wit a place in the Selectman's hearing room, Town Hall Room 204, as selected by the Town Manager. I have attached a draft image of what I would propose appear on the 12"x30" cast bronze plaque. I have obtained a cost estimate from Innovative Signs, Inc. of Sanford, Florida for such a plaque of $861. I am confident therefore that this project's costs will not exceed $1,000.

Whether or not this project to replace the Faulkner plaque goes forward, either as my personal project or as a Board of Selectmen project, I further propose that the Board of Selectmen formally act to name Town Hall Room 204 as the "Francis Faulkner Room" and thereafter refer to it as such.

Sincerely yours,

F. Doré Hunter
Chairman, Acton Board of Selectmen

Acton's Longest Serving SELECTMAN

1760 to 1796

also

Town Clerk

1760 to 1796

Second generation resident of the Faulkner House

Signed, as Town Clerk, Acton's March 5th 1770 Town Meeting Resolution to not further import English goods but endeavor to promote local manufacture.

Appointed by Town Meeting, convened on December 21, 1772 to hear a letter from Town of Boston concerning British violation of rights and privileges as a member of the committee to draft a response.

Appointed by a Special Town Meeting, convened on January 17, 1774 to receive papers from the Town of Boston related to the "Boston Tea Party" of December 17, 1773 and prepare draft resolves and report at the Annual Town Meeting held March 7th 1774, said reply being voted unanimously.

A delegate to the August 30-31, 1774 county convention at Concord pertaining to the perceived unjust late Acts of Parliament and the rights of the colonists.

Chosen at a Special Town Meeting held on October 3, 1774 as a delegate to a provincial congress to be held in Concord on October 11th of that year.

Selected on January 4, 1775 as a member of a committee to see that the resolves of the Continental Congress were strictly observed.

He received word early on April 19, 1775 from a rider that the British were marching on Lexington and Concord at the Faulkner House and fired a three shot alarm which was repeated into the distance. While Captain Davis' Company of Minutemen gathered at the Davis homestead the members of the West Militia Company and their families gathered at the Faulkner House. Captain Simon Hunt took command of the company in order that Colonel Faulkner could perform the duties that would occupy him upon his arrival at Concord.

In February 1776 a new organization of militia was formed and Concord, Lexington, Weston, Acton and Lincoln were assigned to the Third Regiment, Eleazer Brooks as Colonel, Francis Faulkner, Lieutenant Colonel.

Francis Faulkner was present at the surrender of British General Burgoyne in September 1777.

Appointed to a committee on October 24, 1776 to draft resolutions, unanimously accepted, seeking a convention for the adoption of a state constitution.

As Town Clerk copied into the town records (Volume 1, Page 283) the full text of the Declaration of Independence.

When Harold R. Phalen wrote his "History of the Town of Acton", specifically while commenting on Luther Conant's 1902 retirement from his position as Town Moderator, he stated: "With the cessation of his activities as moderator Mr. Conant became one of the small coterie of men beginning with Jonathan Billings and Francis Faulkner who spent the major portion of a long life in one town office while functioning without stint in numerous other capacities."

Descendants of Francis Faulkner

Epitaph:

Erected in Memory of Francis Faulkner, Esq. who after a long life of piety and publick usefulness in Church and State died Aug. 5, 1800

by Margaret McEuen

Col. Francis Faulkner, Esq. (Ammi Ruhammah-3, Francis-2, Edmund-1) was born on 29 Sep 1728 in Andover, Essex Co., MA. He was the oldest son of Ammi Ruhammah Faulkner and Hannah Ingalls. He had two sisters, Hannah, who was the oldest child, and Abigail, who were younger, as well as three younger brothers, James, Ammi, and Nathaniel. His father, Ammi Ruhammah, was the child that Francis' grandmother, Abigail Dane Faulkner, was carrying when she was convicted of being a witch in the Salem Witch Trials of 1692. She was spared being hanged until her child was born, as the Puritans would not kill an unborn child. That child, Ammi Ruhammah, was born in March 1693 and by that time the hysteria had passed and Abigail was spared. She named him Ammi Ruhammah which means, "My people have obtained mercy". He had saved his mother's life.

Francis' grandfather was Francis Faulkner of Andover and his great grandfather was Edmund Faulkner, one of the original settlers of Andover, MA, Ammi Ruhammah moved to Littleton, MA by 1732 and then on to Acton by 1738 where he ran the Mills in South Acton and soon bought both the Mills and the Faulkner House the latter of which remained in the family until 1940.

Francis was a Clothier, according to the land records, and like his father also ran the Mills in South Acton. He received the west side of the Faulkner House at High and Main St. in South Acton when his father died in 1756. His mother, Hannah, received the east side of the house until her death in 1781. Then he shared the house with his brother, Ammi, who received the east side when their mother died. He already owned one half of the Mills and purchased the other half from his mother and his siblings: Hannah, wife of Thomas White, James, Nathaniel, Abigail, and Nathaniel, who all quit-claimed their rights to their shares for 20 Lbs. each, in Oct of 1756. [Middlesex Co. Land Records]

He held the office of Town Clerk between 1762 and 1797 in Acton. He was conscientious in his duties as shown by the exacting care with which he kept the records and also by the extras he put in - such as copying the entire Declaration of Independence into the town record book, so it would be preserved and available to all Actonians.

He served in the military between 1772 and 1774 from Acton and held the office of Rep. to the Provincial Congress in 1774. His active support in the Revolutionary cause began in 1772, when, at a special town meeting held 21 Dec., he was chosen to Acton's committee to draft a reply to correspondence from Boston over measures of the British Administration - "Taxation without representation" and Townsend duties.

He assisted in drawing up Acton's resolves over the destruction of the tea in the Boston Tea Party. He was also a member of the Committee of Safety, and of several important conventions, held during the Revolution. Previous to the outbreak of the Revolution, Francis was Captain of Acton's West Militia Co., his commission coming from King George III. Increasingly, it is said, he found this post difficult to carry, because of the king's acts of oppression against the colonies. Finally, in April of 1775 he renounced his king's commission, leaving the captaincy of the West Co. vacant and the command was filled temporarily by 1st Lt. Simon Hunt.

He served in the Battle of Lexington and Concord on 19 Apr 1775. The most exciting events as they affected the Faulkner House and its occupants were those in the dark hours before dawn on the 19th of Apr. 1775, when the entire Faulkner family was awakened from their sleep to the clatter of a horse's hooves coming across the bridge at the milldam.

This rider, unknown to the Faulknors, but now believed to have been Dr. Samuel Prescott, who escaped the guard that captured Paul Revere, shouted up the alarm that the British Regulars were marching to Concord and then dashed off towards Stow. As fast as he could, and without even stopping to dress, Francis fired his pistol three times out of one of his bedroom windows - the signal that his militia company should muster in his front yard. When the company assembled, bringing their wives and children with them, Faulkner put Lt. Simon Hunt in charge and left to take command as Colonel of the Middlesex Regiment. Isaac Davis' Acton Minuteman Co. had left earlier, and Faulkner's Co. arrived at the Concord fight in time to see the British fire and Capt. Davis and Abner Hosmer fall. Once the Company had left the Faulkner house, the women and children began to prepare the soldier's dinners. After much ado over how this should be done - each woman wanting to prepare her own husband's - it was finally decided to cook and pack all together and let the men divide it as they wanted.

Stakes were driven down in the yard of the house, fires were built and the kettles hung to cook the meal. One of these kettles is now preserved in the Acton Memorial Library, given by the Faulkner heirs. The dinner was cooked and packed and a group of boys, led by Francis Faulkner, Jr., carried it down to find the Acton Militia. They had several frights at seeing dead men by the road and thinking it was Col. Faulkner, but finally found their men in Lexington; Faulkner organizing his regiment and his men in high spirits at having driven the British back from Concord - and at all events "glad of their dinner". It was these boys, led by Francis Faulkner Jr., who brought back to Acton that afternoon the tragic news that Capt. Davis had been killed in the Concord fight, as had Deacon Hosmer's youngest son, the pride of his old age. [Nylander's Iron Works Farm booklet]

He again served between 1776 and 1778 in the Revolutionary War. When the Mass. militia was reorganized in Feb. of 1776, Francis Faulkner was commissioned Lt. Col. of the Third Middlesex Regiment and in that capacity (and in a handsome new uniform, his son admiringly recalled) aided Gen. Washington at Dorchester Heights, previous to the Evacuation of Boston. In Sep. 1776 Col. Faulkner and his Acton Co. were at White Plains, and tradition says his men behaved bravely despite their loss of one man and the general loss of the battle. At Saratoga, in 1777, Col. Faulkner and the Acton and Concord men went on a scouting party on Oct. 14th, returning on the 16th just in time to have "the pleasure to see the whole of Burgoyne's army 'parade their arms' and march out of our lines." Faulkner's Acton men helped guard the prisoners back to Cambridge. [Shattuck's History of Concord]

He was elected as Deacon in the Old Congregational Church in Acton between 29 Sep 1775 and 5 Aug 1805, his death date.

He held the office of Justice of the Peace in 1781 in Acton. The old garrison room at the SW corner of the Faulkner house, which is a huge room that had been built to accommodate 100 people in the event of an Indian attack, became Acton's courthouse, where local justice was dispensed. He also held the office of Rep. to the General Court between 1783 and 1785.

He died on 5 Aug 1805 in Acton. He was honored and lamented when he died. In the History of Acton, it is said: "In all places he exhibited the character of a gentleman of sound judgment, of cultivated mind, and of good, practical common sense. He was a courageous military officer, and able legislator, and impartial justice, and exemplary Christian". There was also an article in The Columbian Centennial of 14 Aug 1805 that tells of his "active and useful life". [Col. Francis Faulkner and the Battle of Lexington] He was buried about 7 Aug 1805 in Woodlawn Cemetery in Acton. He is buried in lot #233 in Section C. The cemetery records say he died in 1806, but the newspaper records say he died in 1805.

He was first married to Elizabeth Muzzy (daughter of John Muzzy and Mary (---) Muzzy) on 29 Apr 1756 in Lexington, Middlesex Co., MA. Elizabeth only lived a short while after they married according to most accounts. There was an Ammi Faulkner who lived in Roylton and who may have been born on 7 June 1756, according to some sources, which the same day as Elizabeth's death date. The records are not clear and more research needs to be done. Some accounts, including one by his grandson, Rev. Cyrus Hamlin, say that Francis Faulkner had eleven children, but he had only ten by his second wife that have been found in the records. Ammi may have been his son by his first marriage and be the eleventh. He named no other son after his father, and often the first son was so named. Since this Ammi was born shortly after his parent's marriage date, his birth may not have been recorded in the official vital records, IF he was their son. It has not been verified that this Ammi Faulkner was a child of Elizabeth Muzzy and Francis Faulkner, as no records have been found for him though it is a possibility that he was born in the first marriage, as the dates are so close. Elizabeth Muzzy was born on 17 Dec 1734 in Lexington, Middlesex Co., MA and was christened there on 22 Dec 1734. She died on 7 Jun 1756 in Acton, and was buried about 8 Jun 1756 in Woodlawn Cemetery.

He was married the second time to Rebecca Keyes (daughter of Capt. Solomon Keyes and Sarah Danforth) on 24 Feb 1759 in Warren, Worcester Co., MA. They may have been married in Acton instead. Rebecca Keyes was born on 16 Feb 1735/36 in Warren, Worcester Co., MA. She died on 3 Apr 1812 in Acton.

Interchangeable Nameplates — Interchangeable Nameplates mount directly to your cast metal plaque, so information can be changed at any time. Use plaque sizes and prices on the facing page.

Plaque Restorations — Foundry restorations of existing cast metal plaques are priced at 33% of the current price for a new plaque of the same size, material and finish. You are responsible for freight charges to the foundry, but ground freight is included for the return trip to any continental U.S. address.

Alternative Mounting Options — All cast metal plaque prices include the standard mounting options on catalog page 13. Other options are as follows:

- Easel — For displaying smaller plaques on a desk or table, add $13.00 for an easel cast integral with back side of plaque.
- Brass Rod Stake Mount — Mounting brackets cast on back side of plaque accommodate a 24" x 3/8" threaded brass rod. Maximum plaque size is 12" x 8". Specify whether plaque should be vertical or angled 45 degrees. $55.00 per plaque.
- Garden Stake Mount — Bronze stake measures 24" x 1-1/2" and attaches to back of plaque with 10–24 machine screws. Stake is painted to match plaque background color. Maximum plaque size is 12" x 8" for one stake, or 20" x 8" for two stakes. Specify whether plaque should be vertical or angled 45 degrees. $55.00 per stake.
- Square Post Back Mount — A black enamel-coated square steel post attaches to the back of a cast plaque with machine screws.
3/4" x 48" long (plaques up to 100 sq.in.) $73
1" x 60" long (plaques 80-250 sq.in.) $86
1 1/2" x 80" long (plaques 200-450 sq.in.) $95
2" x 80" long (plaques over 450 sq.in.) $130
- Integral Post Cap Mount — A decorative flange is cast integral with the base of your plaque to mount into a round post. Several standard designs accommodate 1-1/2" or 2" diameter post mounts. Post caps are painted to match plaque background color. Excellent for double-faced plaques with graphics on both sides. Minimum plaque width 12".
Bronze: $275.00 + $2.68 / square inch plaque price.
Aluminum: $275.00 + $2.24 / square inch plaque price.
